Terror and the Sublime: Art in an Age of Anxiety Works from the Romantic era to the present day reflecting anxiety and the anticipation of disaster. A huge range of artists, including George Barrett, James Barry, Edmund Burke, Francis Danby, overwhelming sublime. But that's not all: the show aims to provide something of a map through the minefield. "The central message... is that prognostications of doom and gloom are nothing new." It is "a curiously optimistic exhibition, highlighting not the obstacles and disasters facing humanity, but rather the capacity of

Gary Coyle, Aiden Barry, Cecily Brennan, David Godbold, Andreas Gursky and Jim Sanborn. See panel, Crawford Art Gallery, Emmet Place Until Feb 27 021-4805042
